LOUDOUN data

To some, Loudoun County is an anachronism, a parochial compound steeped in Virginia culture set amid the natural beauty of the Piedmont. To others, it is the East Coast equivalent to Silicon Valley, a go-go zone for economic development, technology and entrepreneurship. Wineries or data centers? Loudoun County exists in the middle.

TRENDS

Three Northern Virginia counties - Loudoun, Prince William and Arlington - added more than 70,000 jobs combined since 2007. That's 60 percent of all the new jobs in the state. The county is capable of wide swings in state and national elections.
